From The President's Desk

Happy Thanksgiving.

Wish you and your family the best and hope you had a great veterans day.

From your Reunion Coordinator

I have already started planning the 2018 Reunion in Norfolk, Va. The dates for the reunion are June 20, 2018 to June 24, 2018. Sarah and I have been checking on Hotels so we will have a base to plan tours from then. There are so many things to do and sites to see that I was thinking of scheduling some tours and activities to start on Monday the 18th and Tuesday the 19th of June for early arrivals, with the kickoff for the reunion to be on Wednesday evening the 20th of June. So if you want to see more sites than three days will allow please come early. Of course if you wait until Wednesday to arrive you will not be disappointed.

The Norfolk Reunion is still a work in progress. Our hotel has been pretty much decided on. The tours are still being planned as to which ones to do on what days. I have some good ones planned for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday while saving the bigger and most popular ones for Thursday and Friday. I am considering leaving Saturday as a free day to either rest or do something on your own. Of course Saturday evening will consist of our Banquet/ Business Meeting and Sunday our farewell breakfast.

Your reunion coordinator,

Jim Kress

Include a copy of your DD214, name of ship you were on, years you were on ship, and medals you think you are entitled to if you know them. If not request any medals you earned. Then plan on waiting a few years to hear from them.

My husband Gary Clifford served on board the USS RIchard S Edwards, DD950 from 1963 through 1966 as an E4 Electrician.

I would also like to hear from anyone on board the ship that thinks they were exposed to Agent Orange while serving in Vietnam coastal waters.

Received a letter from Floyd Hughes wife that he lost his fight with bone cancer on Aug.06/2016. Floyd was on the ship 1959 as a FTG 3

I am sending this email for my husband John A. Jeanis; (bt2, 59-63) my husband was diagnosed with Alzheimers a couple of years ago. He has progressed so much with this disease so you can discontinue sending him anything regarding the newsletters, information on reunion, etc.

Sincerely,

Betty Jeanis

Current ways of STEALING...

ESPECIALLY LOOK AT SCENE THREE...

Be sure to read Scene 3. Quite interesting.

This is a new one. People sure stay busy

Trying to cheat us, don't they? Make your kids watch this one too!

SCENE 1.

A friend went to the local gym and placed his belongings in the locker.

After the workout and a shower, he came out, saw the locker open,

and thought to himself,

'Funny, I thought I locked the locker...

Hmm,

'He dressed and just flipped the wallet to make sure all was in order.

Everything looked okay - all cards were in place...

A few weeks later his credit card bill came - a whooping bof $14,000!

He called the credit card company and started yelling at them, saying that he did not make the transactions.

Customer care personnel verified that there was no mistake in the system and asked if his card had been stolen...

'No,' he said, but then took out his wallet, pulled out the credit card, and yep - you guessed it - a switch had been made.

An expired similar credit card from the same bank was in the wallet.

The thief broke into his locker at the gym and switched cards.

Verdict: The credit card issuer said since he did not report the card missing earlier, he would have to pay the amount owed to them.

How much did he have to pay for items he did not buy?

$9,000! Why were there no calls made to verify the amount swiped?

Small amounts rarely trigger a 'warning bell' with some credit card companies.

It just so happens that all the small amounts added up to a big one!

SCENE 2.

A man at a local restaurant paid for his meal with his credit card.

The bill for the meal came, he signed it and the waitress folded the receipt and passed the credit card along.

Usually, he would just take it and place it in his wallet or pocket.

Funny enough,

though, he actually took a look at the card and, lo and behold, it was the expired card of another person.

He called the waitress and she looked perplexed.

She took it back, apologized, and hurried back to the counter under the watchful eye of the man.

All the waitress did while walking to the counter was wave the wrong expired card to the counter cashier, and the counter cashier immediately looked down and took out the real card.

> No exchange of words -- nothing!

She took it and came back to the man with an apology..

(This scenario actually happened to me at a local restaurant

- Falls Terrace - between the waitress and the front desk cashier.)

Verdict Make sure the credit cards in your wallet are yours.

Check the name on the card every time you sign for something and/or the card is taken away for even a short period of time.

Many people just take back the credit card without even looking at it, 'assuming' that it has to be theirs.

FOR YOUR OWN SAKE,
DEVELOP THE HABIT OF CHECKING YOUR CREDIT CARD

EACH TIME IT IS RETURNED TO YOU AFTER A TRANSACTION!

SCENE 3:

Yesterday I went into a pizza restaurant
to pick up an order that I had called in.

I paid by using my Visa Check Card which, of course,
is linked directly to my checking account.

The young man behind the counter took my card, swiped it,
then laid it on the counter as he waited for the approval,
which is pretty standard procedure.

While he waited, he picked up his cell phone and started dialing.

I noticed the phone because it is the same model I have,
but nothing seemed out of the ordinary.

Then I heard a click that sounded like my phone sounds
when I take a picture.

He then gave me back my card but kept the phone in his hand as if he was still pressing buttons.

Meanwhile, I'm thinking:
I wonder what he is taking a picture of,
oblivious to what was really going on.

It then dawned on me: the only thing there was my credit card,
so now I'm paying close attention to what he is doing..

He set his phone on the counter, leaving it open.

About five seconds later, I heard the chime that tells you that the picture has been saved.

Now I'm standing there struggling with the fact that this boy just took a picture of my credit card.

Yes, he played it off well,
because had we not had the same kind of phone,
I probably would never have known what happened.

Needless to say, I immediately canceled that card
as I was walking out of the pizza parlor.

All I am saying is, be aware of your surroundings
at all times.

Whenever you are using your credit card take caution
and don't be careless.

Notice who is standing near you
and what they are doing when you use your card.

Be aware of phones,
because many have a camera phone these days.

Never let your card out of your sight...

check and check again!
